Greetings of peace and continuous safety!

I highly recommend Carl Kho as a candidate of Minerva University. I've worked with Carl in over three projects—for One Gadget One Child, the rest is work-related—and his performance in all these projects is consistent. From being a volunteer here to independently working on projects at work from start to finish, I have watched Carl develop into a confident and competent leader.

Aside from counting on his skills in branding, graphic design, and video production among others, I can always rely on him to deliver. He needs no supervision and he just gets things done well. I've never been disappointed with his outputs. His love for what he does is really evident. This enthusiasm is contagious to us, the people he works with. He also handles things very professionally, takes and gives feedback really well, very proactive, and is always hungry for growth.

In this regard, I am humbly writing an endorsement to your office. Carl is a passionate and creative young man who would be an excellent addition to your university.

Sapientia Critica!

Sincerely,
